

Supporting Community Organisations to be at their best

Is it time to review or evaluate the services you provide?

Do you need to produce a greater evidence base for your service provision?

Specialist Service Review / Evaluation for the Health and Community Services Sector

With a proven track record in the Health and Community Services Sector, Tuned In Consulting offers anything from short service reviews and 'health checks' through to detailed qualitative and quantitative evaluations, able to be published. We take time to understand your organisation and specific needs, developing with you a review or evaluation that will meet your requirements. This may include such diverse outcomes as progressing organisational change, assessing the quality of service provision, developing an evidence base or publishing a practice model.

We can provide:

- Policy and Procedure Reviews and updates
- Program or Service reviews
- Client input and feedback through interviews and surveys
- Triangulated Service Evaluations
- Preparing organisations for major transitions (e.g.NDIS, OOHC accreditation)
- Strategic Planning and vision
